Dear Members and Friends,

Well May is here and I for one am ready to enjoy the beautiful weather here in Southern California. One of the things I love best about where we live is that if you want to enjoy the beach, it's close; if you want to enjoy the mountains, they are close; if you want to spend time seeing beautiful flowering deserts, they are close as well. We are very lucky to have so much natural beauty around us.

May is also Mental Health Awareness Month. I found this information at www.GoodTherapy.org I thought, as health care professionals, it is important to share this with you.

Mental Health Awareness Month was founded in 1949 to increase awareness of mental health issues, reduce stigma, and share resources to help people cope, live a higher quality of life, and heal emotional and psychological wounds. These are our friends, family members, and loved ones who may be experiencing symptoms of mental health issues that aren't obvious or visible. Keep resources on hand, learn how to recognize the signs, and know where you would go for help if someone you care about were to experience a crisis.

Stigma toward mental health issues and treatment often stems from the way we come to understand concepts through pop culture and influential others. Many commonly used phrases and idioms can contribute to misunderstanding and a reluctance to seek treatment for fear of being perceived as "weak" or "crazy." Help challenge the stigma in your corner of the world by spending some time thinking and reading about how words and experiences may feel from a different perspective.

Here are a few resources I found that I think are worthy of sharing.

RNS has many people to thank this month for such a successful meeting in April. Our first thanks are to Pam Kauss and team for hosting us at their lovely CareMeridian Winways venue and providing a wonderful lunch. It is always our pleasure to meet at your beautiful facility. Secondly, thank you to Carolyn J Ortega, Psy.D for a very informative presentation on Issues of Cultural Diversity in Continuity of Care. And next we thank Casa Colina Hospital for the Macy gift card and tulip plant; Continuity Care for filled coffee mugs; CareMeridian for the Beach Ensemble; and A+ Healthcare Marketing for the jewelry bag and Lularoe gift card raffle prizes. It was so wonderful to see so many new people in attendance as well as a couple of members we hadn't seen in quite a while.

Please note that Angie Jung has arranged amazing speakers for our upcoming meetings. We invite all of you to attend our meetings and bring a friend. Education, networking and resources are plentiful at our monthly meetings. Don't forget we are dark in June, but will return in July at Quiet Cannon in Montebello.

Wishing all of you a very Happy Spring,

Francine Aron, President

Prizewinner Donates to HOPE Fund

By Fiona Basa-Reyes, Chief Executive Officer

Baldwin Park, CA -- On March 23, one of our own at Kindred Hospital Baldwin Park, Assistant Administrator Lily Lee-Martyn, was a recipient of the Thomas Gucker Award (Nurse Case Manager of the Year, 2016) from the Rehabilitation Nurses Society (RNS). This prestigious award included a $1,000 gift to a charity chosen by the recipient, and Lily, true to the Kindred spirit, chose to gift it to our Kindred HOPE Fund. Lily has witnessed the positive impact the HOPE Fund has had for needy employees at Baldwin Park, and throughout the other Kindred Hospitals. Her intention is to pass on this monetary gift to her fellow Kindred employees who might be experiencing devastating life events and catastrophic difficulties.
